A fair amount of mail bearing these stamps has been received by commercial houses in London and used covers and pieces appear from time. to time in London auctions. These are chiefly franked with the higher values, having come through on registered packets and airmails.

The"Libre France"overprints on these stamps present some interesting varieties as therewas an undoubted shortage of type locally to make up the necessary settings for overprinting the sheets. These varieties are as follows:-.

2 Fr.(Native).No.31,thick & thin hyphens in date. No.32, capital letter "I"on its side in place of hyphen between 8 and 40. No. 36, two thick hyphens in date. No.37, both hyphens are thin(normal) but second is dropped. No.41, oval fullstop between 27 and 8. In top row two adjoining stamps show(i) both hyphens thick (ii) FRANGAIS with thick and thin hyphens. In the last two rows a block of four can be had with upper left stamp showing closed 4 from a different fount; upper right, two very short hyphens; lower left, a Roman 4; lower right, two very short hyphens.

15 Fr.(Native). No. 41 as for 2 fr. Pair in top row as for 10 fr. Block of four from two lower rows as for 10 fr.(recumbent "I" etc.) Block of four from two lower rows-upper left, broken A in FRA; upper right, broken A in FRA, and very short hyphens; lower left Roman 4; lower right 4 and 0 very close together. 25c (Falls) 45c(Falls) 70c(Falls). The set-

25c (Falls) 45c(Falls) 70c(Falls). The settings are identical for the overprints on these values and the following varieties of figures in the date appear: Figure 2, five types; fig. 7, three types; fig. 8, three types; fig.4, four types; fig. 0, three types. The varieties occur as follows: No.1, closed 2; No.2, narrow 8; No.3, closed 2, variety 7, closed 4, narrow 0;-No.11, small & large stops, antique 4; No.12, closed 2, narrow 8, deformed 0; No.13, antique 2, narrow 8; No.14, antique 2, narrow 8, square stops, broken 0; No. 21, narrow 2, fancy 7, dropped stop, broken B for R in FRA, antique 4, narrow 0; No.23, narrow 8, closed 4, C for 0; No.24, antique 2; No.15, comma after "27", narrow 8; No.16, fancy 7; No.37, Roman 2, small first stop, broken 0; No.38, small E in CAMER, fancy 7.

50c (Tapping rubber). A vertical strip, in two rows, of five each, including lower margin can be had, showing the following varieties:- small A in CAM, deformed 4, wide M., large and small stop and the following varieties of type of figures: fancy 7, three times(Nos.3,4,7, on right hand pane of 25); antique 2 (on No. 4), broken 2, closed 2, large 8 (on Nos.18,19,24).

1 Fr.40 (Elephants), 1 Fr.50(Elephants), 1 Fr 60(ditto), 1 Fr.75(ditto), 2 Fr.25(ditto), 2 Fr 50(ditto), same varieties as for above.

Note the overprint on the Elephant series is the same as that used for the Native series except that the sheets were overprinted vertically on account of the format of the stamps. There does, however, appear to have been one or two cases in the overprinting of both series where the type has been loose in the form & dropped out to be replaced by other type and, in other cases, it has shifted, altering the spaces. This is probably due to native labour. The stock of type seems to have been strained to its utmost.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Since receiving Mr.Hurt's interesting and timely "Notes," an article by H. G.Porter has come to our attention, published in "STAMP COLLECTING", Blackfriars Press,Gloucester, England, for Oct.4,1941,Vol.LVII,No.3. Mr.Porter's plating seems to vary from Mr.Hurt in the only item we could check (50 c "Tapping Rubber").According to Mr.Porter "There was evidently a second printing of this value.." and there are "..at least six settings of the type for the overprinting.." In order to assist our readers we print, along with Mr.Hurt's,Mr.Porter's illustration of the type varieties as taken from "STAMP COLLECTING." We would like to suggest to our readers that there is still a lot to learn and that they should study all of the multiple pieces that fall into their hands.

NEW CALEDONIA AND DEPENDENCIES By Donald D. Burgess (32) (Continued from p. 12)

A ministerial decree of May 6,1892, ordered all colonial postmasters to overprint stamps of the general colonies issues on hand with This was to prevent the name of the colony. traffic in stamps which had been profitably carried on due to differences in currency in the various colonies. In Cochin China, for instance, where the currency was silver, the fluctuation of the Mexican dollar might make 1,000 francs go as far as 1,300 francs in New Caledonia or some other colony which used French currency . Speculators bought stamps in the colonies where the values were low and resold them under face but still at a profit for use in other colonies. On June 24, 1892, the governor of New Cale-donia issued a decree providing that The stamps shall be handed over by the Treasury Paymaster and the Accountant-Receiver of Posts to a committee appointed to superintend the work o f printing." This edict apparently was not taken seriously, for the stamps were overprinted as needed.

The first handstamp provided was of copper and didn't hold up under pressure, the top of the final E of Caledonie finally collapsing. M. de Rouvray, then postmaster at Nouméa, had a stamp firm in Sydney, Australia, make another of steel. Thus two distinct types were created, quite similar but readily identifiable after the distinguishing point is known. Type I, from the copper stamp, nearly always has the final E crushed at the top, while Type II retained a clear impression to the last. Should a copy be found that was struck with Type I before it broke down, the length of the middle horizontal bar of the E will provide easy identification.

Type II was used rather promiscuously by the postal employees and as late as 1914 was still in the Nouméa office. For this reason, no definite quantities overprinted can be listed. In Yvert Type I has a catalogue value about three times that of Type II, but I have found the ratio of scarcity to be much higher than that.

The following denominations are known to exist in Type I: imperforate--4c, 20c, 35c, 40c, and 1 fr; perforate -- 5c, 10c, 15c, 20c, 25cyellow,25c black on rose, 30c, 35c, 75c, and 1 fr.

Type II exists in all these and in addition: imperforate--lc,2c, and 75c; perforate--lc,2c, 4c, and 40c. As is to be suspected when handstamping occurs, all values are to be found with overprint inverted, double or horizontal and a number of them in pairs, one without surcharge. I have never seen a variety in Type I, although they may exist.

It is believed that the 1c and 2c imperforate, and possibly the 1c, 2c, and 4c perforate, were surreptitiously overprinted long after the issue became obsolete. Really dangerous forgeries of all values exist.

November, 1892, brought the first definite stamps for New Caledonia, the "Peace and Commerce" type printed from the key plate as used for all the colonies with the name of the colony struck in by a second impression. Designed by Alphée Dubois, and engraved by Louchon.

Varieties are few: the 20c and 75c with background tint on the back of the stamp; loc and 15c without 8 in Dependances; 50c with legend inverted (at the top of the stamp) and minor varieties due to defective impression.
